Jennifer,

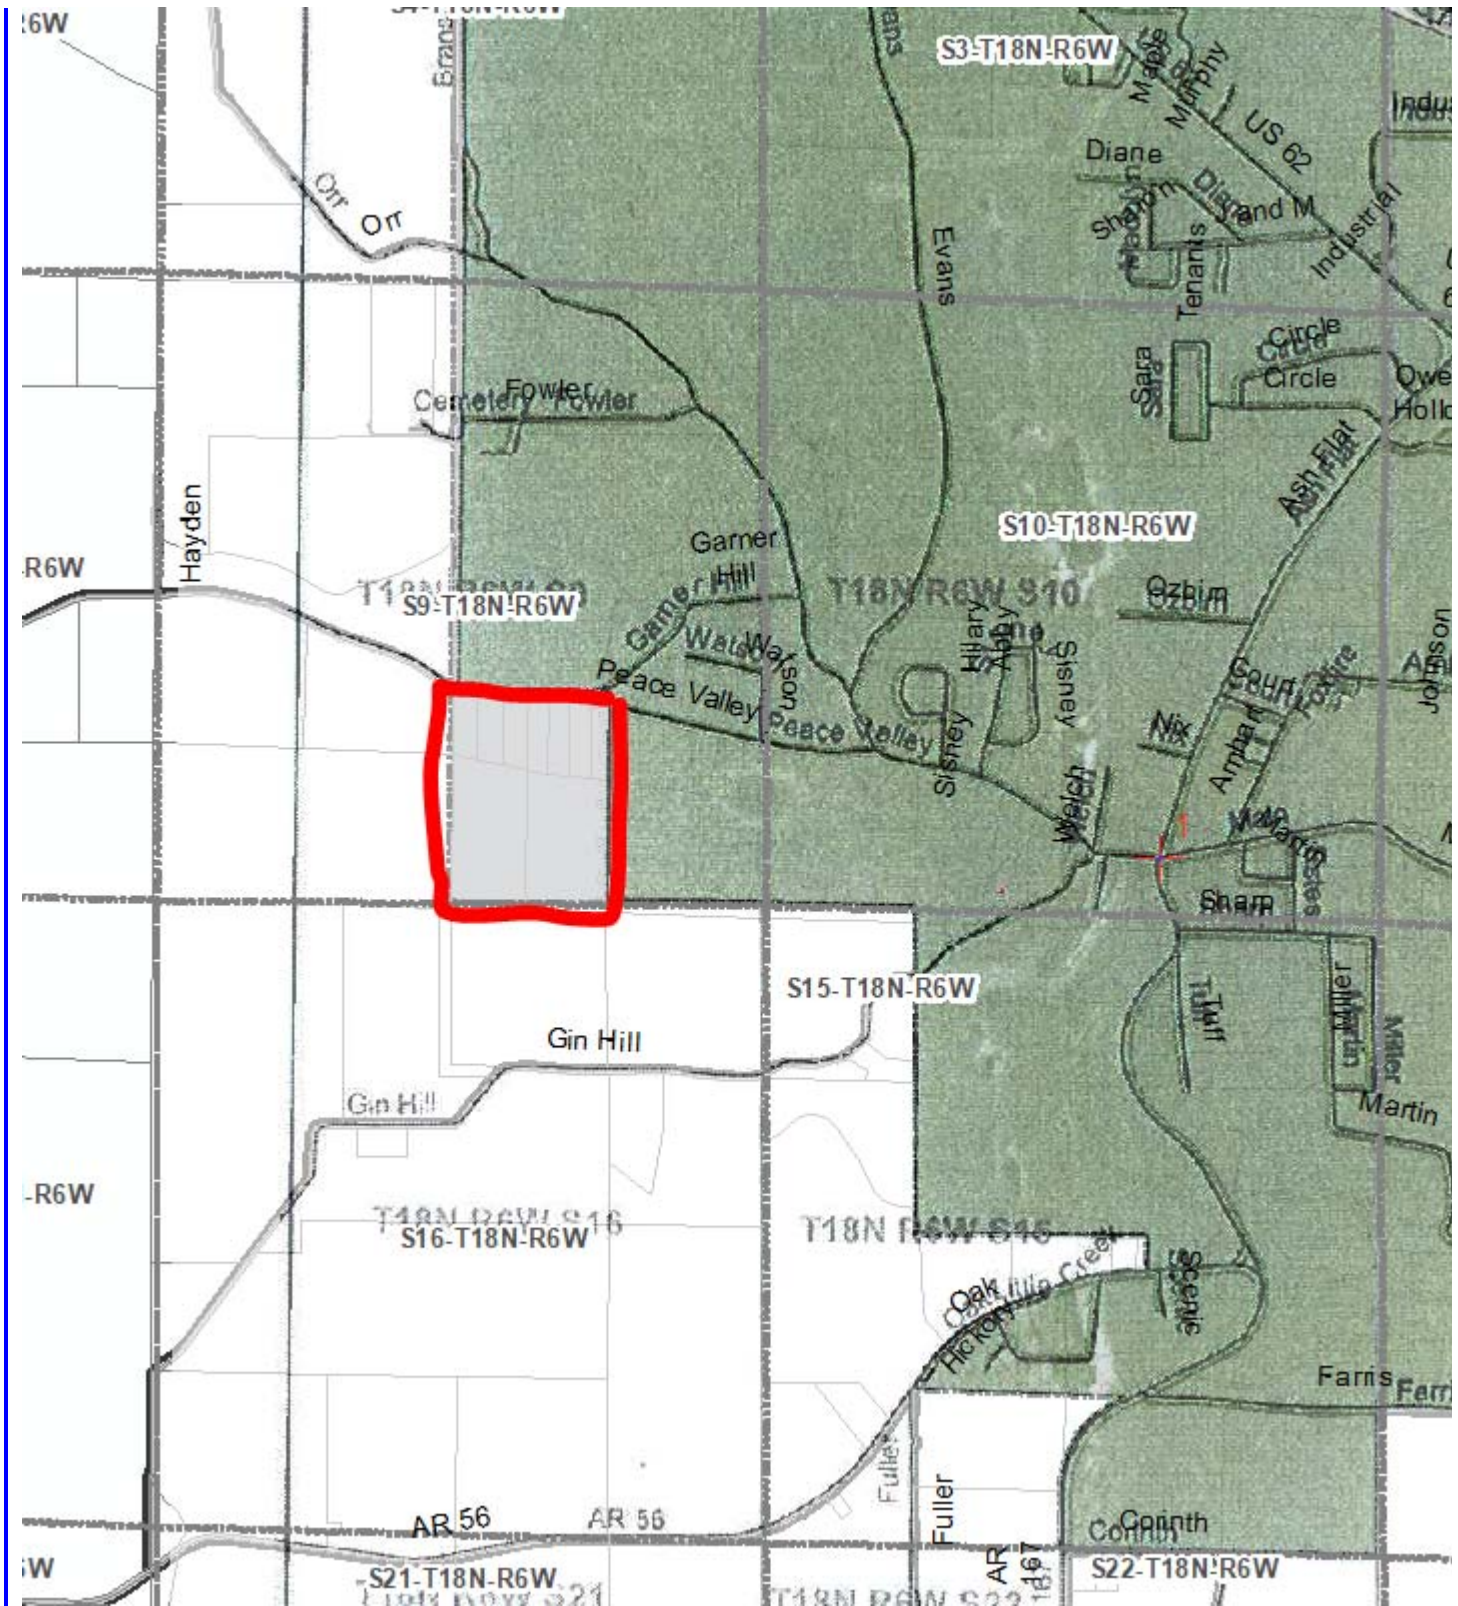

I contacted the assessors office and they verified the area marked in red on the map is not in the city limits. Thank you for checking.

Charlotte,

Hello there! Hope all is well. I have a map question for you guys. As you may know, my office and the Secretary of State work together with the US Census to make sure the Census has the correct municipal boundaries—particularly prior to the 2020 Census. There is an area in the south western part of town that we (Arkansas) show to be in the city, but Census does not. Using an old map you sent me some time ago (attached), it looks like the area in question should actually NOT be in the city. Do you know if this area in red supposed to be in the city? Census shows it to be outside of the city—and the map you sent a long time ago shows it to be out.
