To the best of my knowledge, this has never been a part of the city limits. It is all pasture land with no houses or inhabitants (except cows). Yes it can be removed from the Census map.

Monica,

Sorry to bother you again. I have a question about a specific area that Census is showing inside while the state (and the assessor) show to be out. If this area is outside of the city, Census has asked that we get approval from the city to remove it from their map. If it is INSIDE the city, then further research should be done. Neither my office nor the assessor could find anything.

Is this area inside or outside the city? Thank you again for all of your help!

Jennifer,

Both are slightly incorrect on the areas that you pointed out. I attached a drawing with what we show to be city limits. This coordinates with what taxes we are receiving. Please let me know if there is anything I need to do.

Thanks,

Monica,

We received that annexation and will send to Census during their regular BAS schedule—on March 31st. They sent those maps out before they received all of the 2019 annexations—making things a bit confusing. Long story short, they'll get it and the next map you receive from them will illustrate that.

But, I do have some concerns when looking at what the state has for Mulberry compared to Census. There are a few spots of disagreement. You may want to review the map below and let us know if you see any other issues

The web map is here. You can turn layers off and on using the Content pane. You can also click on the map to get more info about a feature.

The grey is state and the yellow dashed line is what Census has. The black is annexations we have recently mapped. The red arrows show where there is disagreement between the state and Census. In those spots, which is more correct?

Subject: Annexation

I received the BVP for the city of Mulberry. It does not have our annexation which occurred the end of 2019. I think you already have this information, but I have attached the annexation documentation and a copy of a map we just received from ArDot which shows the annexation for convenience. I highlighted the 90 acres. For Census purposes there are no inhabitants in the annexation if that helps you prioritize.

Please call me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
